The Experience

You are going to learn to surf in Bundoran, Co. Donegal, the surf capital of Ireland.

Your lesson will take place at one of the beautiful beaches in the local area, depending on the local weather and swell conditions. These beaches include Rosstown, Mullaghmore and Bundoran Main Beach.

You will meet at the lodge and the instructor(s) will size you for wetsuits and other equipment. They will then transport you down to the beach where you will do a land drill. This will cover the main points of surfing and will last around 15 minutes. Then it's time to head into the water where you will get tuition from the instructor. Who knows, you may manage to ride a wave or two.

After the lesson you will head back to the lodge for some well earned tea and biscuits.
